Dear Ms. Malone:

On behalf of the members of the Source Evaluation Society, I am pleased to enclose a check for $2500 to continue support for the George W. Walsh Scholarship Award (established 1992). George W. Walsh (1932 - 1991), a 1955 graduate of Manhattan College in Civil Engineering enjoyed an outstanding career in air quality evaluation and environmental protection and was a founding member of the Source Evaluation Society. The society has as its purpose to promote the application of sound engineering principles and procedures to the measurement of stationary source emissions for environmental assessment and compliance determinations.

This award is to provide financial assistance to a junior or senior majoring in engineering or the sciences, preferably with an interest in environmental protection. We have been very happy with the recipient selections you have made in the past and are gratified that our contributions are providing support and encouragement. Please, alert us when the award is made and provide us with appropriate information about the selected student. Thank you for this opportunity to contribute.

Sincerely,

Peter Westlin, Treasurer
Source Evaluation Society
